

Discussion

- if you were thinking about this in a time series context, how might you think about padding across different directions? (forward or backward in time)

Other details - stride

stride = 1

stride = 2, with padding